MONDAY NEPTEMBER 1 SIX INDIANA REGIMENTS ENGAGED.

Our Forces Defeated.

It will be recollected that General Nelson massed a force of fresh troops and marched a few days ago to Richmond for the purpose of engaging and driving back the column under Kirby Smith which had entered Kentucky around Cumberland Gap. This force is variously estimated at from 15,000 to 25,000 strong, composed of the flower of the Southwestern Confederate army, commanded by one of the ablest (or so reported) of the Southern Generals. Our forces it appears had advanced to Richmond when they were attacked. The following dispatches received by Governor Morton will explain what happened.

THE CAUSE OF THE INDIAN MASSACRE IN MIN-NESOTA .- The St. Paul (Minnesota) correspondent of the Chicago Tribune, in speaking of the Indian massacre in Minnesota, says:

" As to the origin of the calamity, there are conflicting reports. However, there was a large body of Indians collected at the Sioux Agency to receive their customary annuities. These were unusually delayed; causing great dissatisfaction among the Indians, for their needs were pressing Their food was consumed, and the stores at the Agency were either doled out in insufficient quantities, or were insufficient. on both sides. The enemy attempted to turn our left flank, when sharp fighting commenced between the skirmishers. The 69th Indiana advanced through a dense fire of shot and shell to the relief of our skirmishers, and behaved like soldiers, but the rebels finally turned the left flank and advanced with full force on our column. Manson ordered a retreat, fell back three miles, and re-formed into line of battle on the high hills, the artillery being put in position of right and left flanks. Firing was re-commenced by the artillery, and was kept up briskly on both sides. After fighting about two hours the enemy advanced on our right flank under cover of the woods, and after severe fighting succeeded in turning it. A retreat immediately took place to the origi nal camping ground. General Nelson came up, and after great effort succeeded in rallying the men, and formed another line of battle. Our artillery ammunition was nearly exhausted, and some of the guns left without a man to work them, all having been killed or wounded. Gen. Nelson was wounded about 3 P. M., when we again fell back, retreating to Lexington. The enemy's forces numbered 15,000 to 20,000.
